

ArborGen Court case – update

24 September 2015 – Further to last week's announcement in relation to the on-going ArborGen employee matter, Rubicon said the Plaintiffs were now also seeking costs and interest in the amount of US$10 million from ArborGen, the three partner defendants (including Rubicon) and their representatives. Rubicon repeated that although the South Carolina Court had yet to make any ruling on the case, its intention is to vigorously appeal any adverse outcome. Any appeals process could take some considerable period of time to be determined.
